This image is the result of what I call "Painting With Photography". It is made up of some 20 odd photos joined together and reworked in Photoshop to get a very detailed image that looks close to what the naked eye sees. It takes a lot of work to achieve this result, but if you love this sort of thing it's a great pastime. Ian Powell

President's Report

There is very little to report this month, but here goes anyway :-

Spring is just around the corner so the longer days and beautiful blue skies are on their way. This also means that it is time for our spring trip away.

September 11, 12, and 13 is our trip to the Little Desert Lodge at Nhill. The trip will be simple and low cost, with accommodation in bunk style rooms. Breakfast on Saturday and Sunday is provided with a meal on Saturday night as well (you will need to get your own lunches). Cost will be $90.00 per head for accommodation and meals as described.

You will need to make your own way there, but let me know if you need to, and I will be able to arrange for car pooling etc.

The Little Desert Lodge is an amazing place with large amounts of free range wildlife, birdlife and also lots of wildflowers to photograph. You are also only a stone's throw from Mt Arapalies, which is a major centre for rock climbing and great photographic opportunities.

Please advise me ASAP if you will be attending, and I will also require a $50 deposit before September 1.

You are all welcome, and feel free to bring your families and partners.

Our exhibition at the Resource Centre has been taken down and my thanks goes to Brian Ayres for his assistance with this. Please make sure you collect your prints as soon as possible.

Our guest speaker this month is Rob Featonby, who will be speaking on extreme photography. I hope you all enjoy his work and enthusiasm.

See you all there. NOLA

Please email photos and articles to ipowell@bigpond.net.au for inclusion in the Aperture. We are all in this together.
